We live in a quantum world, where spirit or energy is the only thing that really exists and all possibilities are probabilities. And energy is always in motion. You're born, you live a life, you die. There are all kinds of lifespans. Take technology, for example. Once a cell phone - even though it had to have a briefcase and a big, tall antenna to work - was a radical new invention. But look at today's cell phones. They're tiny and you can call internationally for only a few dollars more a month. Lots of life spans of products passed en route. Change. I wish they didn't charge for baggage at the airport, like they used to. I wish they didn't have the security service that bothers me at the airport. If you're talking like that, it seems you wish it was pre 911. But it isn't. That's change. Embrace it. Look, we're lucky; we're humans. We get approximately a hundred years as a lifespan, give or take. I've heard of organisms with a lifespan of less than 24 hours! Talk about needing to get all your living in while you can! Energy is always dancing into form, through form, and out of form. Energy never stays still; it's always in motion. And it's just possible that you were called upon to be an emissary of that one quantum force. Recognize the continuity and then assert your ability to make a difference. Ask yourself the very simple question: How am I going to contribute? And then get busy doing what your inspiration guides you to do. Of course, because the joker is in play, you don't know...
