Excerpt: . . . this their birth-right, and to find it ratified by an express revelation. . At the same time, if we turn our thoughts inward upon ourselves, we may meet with a kind of secret sense concurring with the proofs of our own immortality. You have, in my opinion, raised a good presumptive argument from the increasing appetite the mind has to knowledge (N 1 1 1.), and to the extending its own faculties, which cannot be accomplished, as the more restrained perfection of lower creatures may, in the limits of a short life. I think another probable conjecture may be raised from our appetite to duration itself, and from a reflection on our progress through the several stages of it. He are complaining (as you observe in a former speculation No 93.) of being shortened of life, am I yet are...
