

Publications of the Scottish History Society Volume 52

By Scottish History Society

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 266 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.6in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1907 edition. Excerpt: . . . which there is hope of a crop turned to tillage, all the ploughs have been more than doubled. Fine linen webs manufactured here are specially commended, so that among all the inhabitants of the neighbouring parts who are not brought up to this pursuit, webs from this district have name and fame. Hence arises no small profit to the inhabitants, who attend all the summer fairs with them. Of oxen, particularly those fattened on grass for the mart, of sheep, and of horses also for country needs there is the requisite abundance, and likewise for the supply of the markets. Most of the inhabitants are the relatives, and all are the dependants of the Marquis of Huntly, now for several centuries the proprietor of this district. The Castle of Strathbogie, whence the district has its name, pleasantly situated at the junction of the said...

READ ONLINE

[8.79 MB]

Reviews

An incredibly great ebook with lucid and perfect explanations. It is actually rally fascinating through studying period of time. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Josefina Yundt

Comprehensive manual! Its this sort of excellent read through. We have read through and i also am certain that i will going to read through once more again later on. You wont sense monotony at at any time of your time (that's what catalogs are for regarding in the event you question me).

-- Prof. Geraldine Monahan